OUTLAW BAND EXTERMINATED

Desperate Fight Takes Place on Jolo Island.

FAMOUS MORO CHIEF KILLED

Jikiri and His Band Wiped Out in Battle by Detachment of Regulars and Constabulary, Assisted by a Naval Flotilla—American Loss Is One Man Killed and Twenty-three Wounded.

Manila, July 6.—In a desperate fight near Pattan, on Jolo island, Jikiri, the famous Moro outlaw chief, was killed and his entire band exterminated by detachments of regulars and constabulary under Captain George L. Byram of the Sixth United States cavalry, operating in conjunction with a naval flotilla of the mosquito fleet under Lieutenant Commander Signor. The American loss was one private killed and three officers and twenty enlisted men and one sailor wounded.

Private O'Connell of Troop A, Sixth cavalry, was the one man killed among the Americans and the officers wounded are Lieutenants Kennedy, Miller and Arthur H. Wilson of the Sixth cavalry.

Captain Byram's cavalry, with a few scouts and constabulary and a detachment of sailors under Lieutenant Commander Signor, located and attacked the outlaws in the mountains not far from the coast. The Moros fled and took refuge in a large cave. The column of troops and sailors surrounded the place, but Jikiri refused to surrender. A concerted attack was made, the Moros fighting desperately in the mouth of a cave until the last member of the band was dead.

As yet few details of the fight have been received here. The division, headquarters of the army here account for the large number of wounded among the troops on the theory that the cave was mined and that some of the Americans were wounded by the explosion.

In his brief report Captain Byram warmly commended Lieutenant Miller for bravery and gallantry in action. Captain Byram gave no details as to the condition of the wounded.

Jikiri was one of the most famous outlaws remaining in the islands. Ever since the American occupation he has fought the whites and has led raid after raid, in which numerous Americans and many friendly natives were killed. Detachments of troops have pursued him time and again, but he always managed to elude them, only to commit further murders where least expected. Orders were finally given for a systematic campaign against him, which, after many months, has resulted in his death and the extermination of his band.

BREAKS UP IN DISTURBANCE

Indignation Meeting Held by Indian Residents of London.

London, July 6.—An indignation meeting held by the Indian residents to protest against the murder of Lieutenant Colonel Sir William H. Curzon Wyllie by an Indian student, Madaral Dhinagri, broke up in a serious disturbance. When a resolution was offered expressing sorrow at the crime, an Indian student objected. Immediately there was an uproar. Chairs were thrown and sticks were used freely. The dissenting student was severely beaten and was rescued by the police with the greatest difficulty. The disturbance continued for a considerable time, and when quiet was restored the resolution was adopted.

Dhinagri's younger brother made a statement, repudiating his brother and expressing horror at the murder.

AT POINT OF A REVOLVER

One Man Lines Up Fifty-four Men Along Dance Hall Walls.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 6.—At the point of a revolver a man who gave his name as M. B. Phillip and his home as Kansas City, lined up fifty-four men along the walls of a dance hall in a downtown resort.

A riot call was sent to the police station and a squad of officers reached the place while the men still held their hands above their heads.

Phillip was arrested without trouble.

McMillan Defeats Brinker.

Denver, July 6.—By the small margin of 2 minutes, 37 3/4 seconds, E. McMillan, driving a Colburn car, won the 290-mile race over the Brighton course from Harold Brinker in a Moov car. Official time, 7:26:24 4-5.

RAYNER MAKES A STRONG FIGHT

Opposes Customs Court Feature of Tariff Bill.

DELIVERS A LENGTHY SPEECH

Declares That the Proposed Tribunal Would Be Found to Be Unconstitutional—Sharply Criticizes Mr. Aldrich, Whom He Frequently Reminds That the Rhode Islander Is Not a Lawyer.

Washington, July 6.—The senate put in a busy day. From 10 o'clock in the morning until 5:35 o'clock in the afternoon the senators labored. The day was devoted in the main to the consideration of the administrative provisions of the bill and to the Brown resolution providing for the submission of the question of income tax to the legislatures of the various states, which, while not a part of the tariff bill, is so related to it as to have made it necessary to consider it in connection with the bill. The best fight of the day was made by Senator Rayner against the customs court feature of the administrative amendment.

He undertook to puncture the provision, and he made a long speech in which he set forth with much emphasis the declaration that the court would be found to be unconstitutional because, while dealing with questions at common law, it makes no provision for trial by jury, which he said every suitor under the common law has a right to demand. He sharply criticized Mr. Aldrich, whom he frequently reminded that he was not a lawyer and could not be expected to understand legal and unconstitutional questions.

The provision was defended by a number of the Republican lawyers, but Mr. Root said that he had not favored the creation of the court. The provision occupied the attention of the senate for about three hours and ultimately was accepted without division, though not until it had been amended in accordance with Mr. Rayner's suggestion so as to exclude criminal cases from its operation.

The proposed court is to consist of five members and it is intended to supersede the United States circuit courts in customs matters.

Not since the tariff bill has come into the senate has so much been accomplished within a day. Indeed, when the sitting came to an end a summary of the proceedings showed that there was very little left to be done. The principal item still to be considered is the tobacco tax, the figures on which had not been completed by the committee when the senate adjourned.

Attention was given to the drawback feature of the bill, relative to which the finance committee made no recommendation beyond striking out the house provision, which would have the effect of throwing the whole question into conference. In the senate, however, several amendments were made, some of which were permitted, at Senator McCumber's instance, to satisfy the grain producers of the Northwest. A number of other minor amendments were also made, and all the administrative features disposed of.

Early in the day the income tax resolution of Senator Brown of Nebraska was adopted. The resolution submits to the legislatures of the states an amendment to the national constitution providing that "the congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever

TAFT CHIEF FIGURE AT CELEBRATION

President Participates in Anniversary Exercises.

Norwich, Conn., July 6.—President Taft was the chief figure in the celebration of the 250th anniversary of this historic old New England town. In an address to the people, after a fine military parade and civic display, the president, finding a theme in the church influence in the foundation of Norwich, took occasion to express his views on the liberty of religious belief.

He pleaded that every man should be allowed to worship God in his own way. The president declared amid laughter that the American forefathers came to this country ostensibly to escape religious intolerance, but as a matter of fact in order that they might follow out their own religious ideas in their own way and with a large degree of intolerance toward any other form of belief.

"We have passed beyond that now," said the president, "and are coming more and more to realize the right of the individual to worship God as he may choose."

The president's address, befitting the occasion, was largely historical in character.

The day was replete with historic incidents. An open air pageant during the morning depicted scenes leading down from the wars between the Mohegan and Narragansett tribes of Indians, through the purchase of the site of Norwichtown from Uncas, to revolutionary days, the welcome to Washington, the return of the soldiers from the Civil war, the dawn of peace, the present day and the hopes of the future.

The pageant, held on a grassy plot surrounded by giant trees, was a pretentious undertaking. Several hundred persons took part in the tableaux, the Indian dances, the battle between the tribes, the capture of Miantonomoh by Uncas, the death of the former, and the portrayal of the march of historic events. The fight between the Indians was carried out with great fidelity and while the president looked on the mock Uncas supposedly cut from the shoulder of the dead enemy a piece of flesh and ate it with every evidence of delight.

MONETARY DAMAGE IS HEAVY

Worst Flood in History of City at Council Bluffs, Ia.

Council Bluffs, Ia., July 6.—The worst flood in the history of the city occurred when several inches of water fell within a few hours. The entire city from Sixteenth street west to the city limits was under from two to four feet of water.

The heavy rain caused Indian creek to overflow and an area covering 250 acres in the heart of the city was flooded. Broadway from Seventh to Thirteenth street was under three feet of water and all the larger stores along that central thoroughfare were flooded. It is not known that any casualties occurred, but the monetary damage will be heavy.

PARACHUTE FAILS TO OPEN

Aeronaut Meets Death Before a Big Crowd.

Portland, Me., July 6.—Mistaking the promiscuous firing of revolvers by the crowd below as a signal for the climax of his aerial act, James Corcoran, an aeronaut, twenty-eight years old, of Lowell, Mass., cut loose with his parachute when but a few hundred feet from the earth at the Fourth of July celebration here and was dashed to the ground, meeting almost instant death at the feet of 5,000 horrified spectators.

Corcoran was employed by Professor Joseph Laroux of this city, with whom the municipal authorities contracted for balloon ascensions and parachute jumps at the Eastern promenade. Three parachutes were attached to the hot air balloon for a triple jump by the aeronaut. It was arranged that Corcoran should drop with his parachutes when he heard a certain number of revolver shots from Laroux on the ground, after the balloon had reached a height of approximately 5,000 feet.

Corcoran had barely left the ground before promiscuous firing of revolvers began, but Laroux called out to him to keep on up. About a few hundred feet it is hard for an aeronaut to judge correctly his exact height as he swings on the bar, and so when Corcoran heard a second fusillade it is believed he was certain the signal had come for him to cut loose in the parachute, for he was seen to drop from the balloon, although he was barely 500 feet in the air.

The distance was too short for the parachute to open properly and the man dropped like a plummet, striking the ground about 1,000 feet from where the ascension was made.

He was still alive when picked up, but unconscious. It was found that he had sustained a fracture of the skull and other injuries, and he soon died.

THREE FIRES THE FOURTH

Deadly Fire Cracker was Responsible for None of the Alarms Turned in However

When the fire alarm sounded July Fourth probably every citizen thought if he did not say so, "firecrackers," but they had nothing to do with any of the alarms. The first came from the City hotel and was caused from an over heated flue which set fire to a ventilating shaft alongside. The fire ladders responded quickly and put it out before any great damage was done. The alarm was turned in about 6:30 in the morning. In the afternoon the shop whistle startled the people. This proved but a grass fire and was soon under control. While the shop department was fighting this the city department was called to extinguish a similia blaze near the Kindred street bridge.

The department was called out between twelve and one o'clock today to quench a blaze in the grass and brush in a ravine near W. D. McKay's residence.

W. R. Ward, of Dy esburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation, and it has proven, without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." H. P. Dunn. m w f

ALASKA'S FINE FISH.

Government Experts Expect Valuable Industry to Grow.

POSSIBILITIES NOT REALIZED.

Many Varieties Found In Abundance In the Sea and Fresh Water—Lower Forms of Marine Life to Be Seen In Great Numbers—Five Distinct Species of Salmon.

The United States government's fishery exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon exposition in Seattle, Wash., has been designed to call attention to the riches of the great northwest territory in the products of the sea. It should appear, indeed, that Alaska is a paradise not only for the big game hunter, but for the fisherman.

By those who have eaten it the Alaskan candlefish is said to be incomparably the most delicious of fish. The candles begin running in Alaskan waters about March and swarm into the river and estuaries by the millions for several weeks. The sole, so highly esteemed in England, is found at its best in the waters of the Alaskan coast and, strange to say, has no correspondent on the Atlantic side of this continent. Alaskan cod has proved a revelation to the epicure, being far superior to the Newfoundland cod. The color of the salted fish when cooked is a bright golden yellow.

Halibut are taken in great numbers in deep water off the coast of Alaska, these fish often weighing 500 pounds each. The Indian natives are adepts at catching halibut and use hooks of their own manufacture made of bone or of wood and iron, which are said to be far more efficient than any shop rig. White fishermen who have tried them will use no other, for a fish which once has bitten seldom gets away. Sturgeon also exist in great numbers as well as anchovies, had dock, flounder, tomcod and whiting or kingfish. There is a fish caught in salt water alongshore where weeds and kelp grow which is the counterpart in color and structure of the black bass of eastern inland fresh waters and affords equally good sport for the trolling spoon.

The richness of marine life along the coast of Alaska has called forth the wonder of veteran scientists of the fisheries bureau. In the coves at low tide starfish of many patterns pave the bottom like cobblestones—starfish of five, eight, ten, eighteen and twenty-two fingers or points and of bright crimson, pink, dark red, yellow, drab and gray hues. All of the crabs and prawns left by the ebb climb and skip over their motionless bodies, seldom provoking them to stir the least bit out of position. On all the piles of the wharfs and wherever there are sunken logs or trees anemones of pink and purest white grow in clusters. Then there are many kinds of hideous octopus, cuttlefish and inkfish. The sea cucumber is plentiful also. When cured and dried it makes the article of commerce known as beche-de-mer, highly prized in China for food, where it is called trepang. It is said by the bureau investigators that a valuable industry might be built up by preparing this commodity for market. Indeed, it is urged that the possibilities of the fisheries of Alaska are, outside of the salmon and one or two other enterprises, scarcely realized at all.

The inland fisherman in Alaska has a plentiful variety, among which are the salmon and sea trout, the lake trout, two sorts of stream trout, pike, sturgeon, perch, eels and a very superior whitefish. Of salmon alone there are five distinct species, all differing very materially from those of the Atlantic coast. The quinnat, or king salmon, is a good deal heavier than his Atlantic congener and in the rivers of western Alaska averages 50 pounds, while individuals often run up to 100 pounds.

Dr. Tarleton H. Bean of the Smithsonian Institution, who has devoted many years to the study of fish and fishing grounds of Alaska, enumerates 135 species, 108 of which live in the sea and 27 permanently or temporarily in fresh water.—New York Sun.

OPSAHL ELECTED TREASURER

To Succeed F. M. Hagberg, who Refused to Furnish Surety
Bond

The council met in regular session Monday, July 5, the following members being present: President Twohey, Aldermen Cardie, Robertson, Zakariasen, Gardner Kjellquist and Dieckhaus.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

The report of the board of equalization, was presented to the council and placed on file. Attorney Ryan and Alderman Gardner expressed the opinion that the report should not be presented to the council. President Twohey stated that this report was made simply for the benefit of those who wished to examine it and not because legally necessary.

The report of Wm. A. Nelson, secretary of the water and light board, was read and after some objection on the part of Alderman Gardner who took exception to the purchase of more than $500 worth of material, in one month, the report was accepted.

The report of the clerk of the municipal court, the chief of police, city clerk and poundmaster were read and approved.

The report of the street commissioner as to the work done on Mill street by the street committee without orders from the council, brought up the question as to work being done without orders. City Attorney Ryan held that all ditching, etc., should be taxed to the abutting property. President Twohey took exception to the opinion of the attorney, declaring that the expense was one of maintenance. On motion the report was accepted and the pay roll of the street department was allowed.

The bill of Edward P. Burch, consulting engineer for services and expenditures in connection with the water works condemnation proceedings was referred to the water committee and the special city attorney. The president of the council ordered that all bills for services as witnesses, etc., follow the same course and a number of other bills were so referred.

The usual city payrolls were allowed, the only comment arising over allowing the pay of two extra police for services on the Fifth of July, the objection being that the men's days was not yet completed. The pay roll was allowed, however.

The bill of Frank Anderson interpreter in municipal court was referred to the city attorney.

A bill from S. F. Alderman, as receiver of the Minnesota Water Works, for $150 for water used for other than city purposes, was referred to the city attorney and the bill for hydrant rental took the same course, as did a request from Mr. Alderman that the hydrant rental agreement be continued for the coming six months.

The council got into quite a wrangle over a small bill for supplies for the city hall, Alderman Gardner objecting on the ground that he, as a member of the purchasing committee had not been consulted. It was finally allowed.

A bill of A. Mahlum for $30 rent for land on East Oak street used to pile rock upon was referred to the city attorney.

Attorney Ryan reported that the present bond of the city treasurer was insufficient.

On motion the office of city treasurer was declared vacant and the city council proceeded to an informal ballot for city treasurer with following result:

F. M. Hagberg one, A. M. Opsahl three Ray Paine two, A. P. Cardie one.

On the first formal ballot there were nine ballots cast and only eight aldermen present and the ballot was declared void. A second ballot resulted Opsahl four, Paine three and Hagberg one. A third ballot had the same result. The next ballot resulted four for Opsahl and four for Paine.

President Twohey called on Mayor Ousdahl to vote, but City Attorney Ryan stated that it required six votes or a majority of the entire city council to elect. Several successive ballots resulted Opsahl five and Paine three varied by tie votes of four each. Mr. Opsahl finally secured six votes and was declared elected.

A communication was read from Editor A. J. Halsted, concerning the reasonableness of the contract price

F. E. Crowley asked permission to transfer his license to 121 Kindred street. There was no report from the police committee and on motion of Alderman Drexler it was taken up by the committee of whole. On a motion to grant the transfer it was so done, Aldermen Cardie, Robertson, Gardner, Drexler and Dieckhaus voting aye and President Twohey and Alderman Zakariasen and Kjellquist voting nay.

The transfer bond of Geo. West was approved all voting aye except Alderman Kjellquist.

Freeman Young asked permission to transfer his license to Tony Algrim. The request was granted all voting aye except Alderman Kjellquist.

Bredenberg & Erickson, Southeast Brainerd merchants, asked permission to use part of 13th street for building material while making improvements to their store building. It was granted.

James Smith of the city hotel offered $75 for the old fire horse which was on motion accepted.

The resolution rescinding the contract for publishing the minutes of the meetings of the city council, which had been placed on the table at the last meeting was on motion referred to the finance committee.

A resolution fixing the salary of the building inspector at $5 per month, was unanimously adopted.

The application of Andrew Carlson and Wm. Sinclair for saloon licenses were referred back to be made in accordance with the new Alderman law.

An ordinance establishing a board of health and defining its duties was given its first reading, all voting aye.

W. H. Mantor appeared before the city council and asked an extension of the franchise of the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company for twenty years from the present time. He presented a draft of an ordinance which was referred to a special committee consisting of three aldermen and the city attorney. The president appointed on such committee Aldermen Cardie, Gardner and Zakariasen.

The council proceeded to elect a street commissioner. The first ballot was a tie between Joseph St. Peter and Wm. Barron each getting four votes. Several subsequent ballots stood five for St. Peter and three for Barron. A motion to defer the election until some future time met with a tie vote and Mayor Ousdahl, who had already expressed an opinion that it should be deferred, voted aye.

Council adjourned at midnight.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. A man who is in perfect health, so he can do an honest day's work when necessary, has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. HOW BRAINERD CELEBRATED THE 4TH

Several Thousand People Visited
New Park and Enjoyed
Music and Boating

MANY WENT TO OTHER LAKES

Brainerd People Scattered as Usual to Various Resorts in the Vicinity

Several thousand people celebrated July 4th at the city's new park on Rice lake, the gift of Leon E. Lum, of Duluth, and all present expressed themselves as charmed with the beautiful location. Many went in the forenoon and enjoyed picnic dinners under the trees in the park, but the program did not commence until in the afternoon and not until then did the crowds really begin to gather. A large number went out on the Minnesota & International train, but the big steamer which was to ferry them across the lake was out of commission and they had to walk nearly a mile, small boats ferrying them across the upper end of the lake. A large dancing pavilion had been erected and the Brainerd city band furnished music for dancing during afternoon and evening.

Many persons enjoyed excursions around the lake on the various launches and the usual program of small races and contests was given. The principal feature was a ten mile launch race which was won by the Sincerity, owned by Harold Fosberg, the Machinist, owned by Taege, Cook & McKay winning second place. There was a fine display of fire works in the evening.

The following were the winners of the races:

100-yard dash, Amos Hikes, 1st; George Ford, 2nd.

Three-legged race, Roy Johnson and Will Kurst, 1st; Harold Breason and partner 2nd.

Girls race, Miss B. Hikes, 1st; Miss Stallman 2nd.

Fat men's race, J. T. Ludwig, 1st; Oscar Maxe, 2nd.

Young ladies 50-yard dash, Flossie Floyd, 1st; Evelyn Maver, 2nd.

Boys 100-yard dash, Sidney Smith, 1st, Victor Rounds, 2nd.

In the tug of war the single men won over the married men.

The celebration was under the charge of the Trades & Labor assembly and that organization is to be congratulated upon the success of the affair. The only criticism, if criticisms there may be, was the manner in which the crowds were handled, or rather were not handled, in connection with the launch excursion around the lake. The crowds jammed onto the dock in a manner which made it dangerous for women with little children to go out to the end and if they got there they were often crowded aside and given no chance to get into the boats. Had the pier been roped off and an officer stationed at the end and only let people on as the boats could handle them they would have been able to have handled a much larger number, as the rush for the boats delayed loading and unloading. The committee was swamped by a bigger crowd than it anticipated. They had purchased six rolls of 5-cent tickets, 1000 to each roll, such as are used in amusement places in general and they were exhausted early in the game, the tickets being used for refreshments and the various amusements on the grounds.

In addition to the many who went to Lake Lake, the various lakes surrounding Brainerd were well peopled. A goodly number went to Crow Wing Saturday afternoon and evening and a considerable number took in the Pillager celebration on Monday, besides many who went to Deerwood, Merrifield, Hubert and other places to spend Sunday and Monday.

DROWNED AT DEERWOOD

Herman Hagstrom Lost Life While
Fishing in Serpent Lake Sunday Afternoon

Coroner T. W. Gibson was summoned to Deerwood today to view the remains of the late Herman Hagstrom, who was drowned in Serpent lake Sunday afternoon. Hagstrom was out fishing in a boat about twenty rods off Patterson's point when the accident occurred. The boat was overturned and he was precipitated into the water. Mr. Pacingham, who was there rowed at once to the spot and dove for the unfortunate man, but was unable to find him. A search was instituted for the body which continued far into the night without success. It was resumed early Monday morning and was continued well into the afternoon when the remains were found by Oscar Carlson and Wm. Elmore, who secured them with grappling irons. The interment will be at Deerwood, where he has a cousin. He leaves a wife in Sweden.

BRUTAL ASSAULT ON MRS. B. A. FERRIS

Daniel Currand Broke into Her House and Assaulted Her on Monday Afternoon

ARRESTED AFTER A CHASE

Miscreant is Captured by W. H.
Strachan, Wm. Tudor and
F. J. Britton

One of the most dastardly assaults in the history of Brainerd was made on Mrs. Beulah Ferris in her residence at 601 Kingwood street about 4:30 Monday afternoon. The assailant was a tramp painter named Robert Curran, who had been in the city since Thursday employed by J. C. Congdon. Mrs. Ferris had employed him in the forenoon to put up some decorations at her residence and it is supposed that he thought he had found an opportunity for robbery. He broke in and concealed himself in the house during her temporary absence and on her return attacked her, knocking her down and bruising her badly about the face and hands. Her screams attracted the attention of neighbors, W. H. Strachan and others of his household being the first to respond. The fellow was seen by Mr. Strachan as he left the house, but as the latter was then unarmed he made no attempt to stop the fellow, taking a good look so as to be able to identify him. As soon as he had seen that Mrs. Ferris was being cared for Mr. Strachan started for a gun to go after her assailant. He met Wm. Tudor who had a weapon in his pocket and they took up the chase. They got a glimpse of him but lost sight of him. They then separated and Mr. Tudor went around the block in which T. J. J. Tyler's residence is situated one way while Mr. Strachan went the other. Mr. Tudor saw the fellow go up the steps and try to get into the Tyler residence. He accosted him and Curran said he wanted to find out when the next train went to Duluth. Mr. Tudor answered him and after some conversation he advised a visit to the depot to see if there was a freight going that way. As they approached the corner the fellow saw Mr. Strachan and bolted for the East Brainerd bridge, along Kindred street. Handing the gun to Mr. Strachan, Mr. Tudor and that gentleman took after the fleeing man and after a couple of calls he glanced back, saw the gun and stopped. Mr. Tudor grabbed him by the wrist while Mr. Strachan held the gun ready if he made a crooked move. Francis Britton happened along just then and took the fellow's other arm and he submitted without a struggle. He was placed in the city jail until this morning when he was arraigned on the charge of assault and turned over to Sheriff Reid to await the outcome of Mrs. Ferris' injuries.

Mrs. Ferris rested quite easily last night, despite the shock and bruises and Dr. Beise, who attended her, expressed belief this morning that she would make a speedy recovery.

There was much indignation expressed on the streets and it would have taken but little to have fanned it into mob violence. The well known severity of Judge McClenahan in cases of like character, however, did much to render people willing to let matters take the legal course.

Women Who Are Envid

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wrecked complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth velvety skin, lovely complexion. Local Manager of Northwestern Telephone Exchange Company Outlines Proposed Improvements

In addition to the statement made by W. H. Mantor to the city council Monday evening E. R. Jones, the local manager was interviewed today as to the proposed improvement which the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company has in view, and as a preliminary to which they have asked the city council to grant them an extension of their franchise to 20 years from the date of its passage. Mr. Jones stated that it was the intention of the company, if the extension was granted to put in a central energy system, such as is used in all cities having up-to-date equipment. Under this the subscriber has only to take down the receiver to call central. The company proposes to remove all poles from the streets to the alleys so far as possible and in all but the outlying districts to use cables instead of separate wires. With these improvements there will be no change in rates, says Mr. Jones, but the service will be much better. It is probable also that the "two party selected" system of residence phones will be in use. Under this system the subscriber on a line having four phones can only hear the bill ring when he and one other are called, making the annoyance much less.

The company, Mr. Jones states does not care to install these improvements which will cost between $35,000 and $50,000 unless certain of a reasonably long franchise. Their present franchise will expire about five or six years from now and they wish it extended to 20 years from the present time.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

The Burgomaster

Our local amusement managers are quite busy at present arranging their "menu" for the balance of the present season. Of all the first class attractions scheduled to appear at the opera house, none will be welcomed more generously than "The Burgomaster," with Harry Hermesen, in the title role. Pixley and Luder have written many musical successes, namely "Prince of Pilsen," "King Dodo," "Woodland" and "Grand Mogul," but it was in the greatest of all these, "The Burgomaster," that they secured their first great and everlasting triumph. The present season's offering is the new edition of this musical masterpiece, and Manager Wm. P. Cullen has given it a sumptuous mounting, Friday, July 9. Curtain at 8:30.

FIRE FIGHTERS' AID.

Timber Cruisers Plan Wireless Telegraph System.

STEP TO SAVE THE FORESTS.

Signal Method Expected to Make Standing Timber Last For Centuries. Proposed to Teach Forest Rangers Wireless Code to Quickly Locate Fire and Summon Help.

Wireless telegraphy as a means of giving alarm in the event of fire is the plan advocated by timber cruisers in Spokane, Wash., to protect the forests in Washington, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, California and British Columbia, which contain approximately 700,000,000 acres of standing timber. Experienced cruisers in Spokane believe this is the solution of a problem of scientific fire fighting, which costs lumber companies and the United States forest service hundreds of thousands of dollars every year, in addition to the enormous expense involved in constructing and maintaining telephone and telegraph lines by the government.

The plan outlined by R. H. Armstrong, an expert operator, is to establish a system of wireless signal boxes and teach the forest rangers the code, so that at the first alarm they can locate the fire and summon assistance before the flames gain much headway. This would eliminate the danger of cutting off communication by fires destroying the poles and trees falling across wires. Probably the most important thing is the saving of life. Every year since 1870 an average of fifty persons have been burned to death in the United States in forest fires, making a total of nearly 2,000 lives sacrificed to flames which might have been prevented.

Armstrong maintains that the chief reason for the big conflagrations is after a small fire is discovered a long time elapses before the alarm can be sounded and aid summoned to fight the flames. Many of the large lumber concerns of the Pacific northwest have considered using telephone lines for connecting camps of forest rangers, but this was given up for the reason that the fires would burn the poles or the wind would blow them down so often that they would be useless most of the time. Then, too, it was found that in many timber tracts the country is so rugged and the standing timber so heavy it would be almost impossible to stretch a telephone line.

However, the forest service has built hundreds of miles of telephone lines and cut trails through the big government forests in Idaho, Washington, Montana and other western states where it also maintains patrols. These were found of good use during the fires in 1907 and 1908, but large areas were burned over as the result of the fires gaining great headway before they could be located by range riders.

One thousand acres of virgin timber in western Washington were destroyed last year, when the season was a comparatively light one for fire losses, and the losses in eastern Oregon, northern Idaho, western Montana, northeastern Washington, California and southeastern British Columbia were also heavy. This enormous loss of property and sometimes the lives of homesteaders can be prevented to a large extent, it is believed, by the employment of the wireless telegraph for reporting fires as soon as they start and calling for assistance from all sides.

There are more than 550,000,000 acres of standing timber in Washington, Idaho, Oregon, California, Nevada and Montana and about 150,000,000 acres in British Columbia. Of the timber lands in the six western states about 440,000,000 acres are owned by private corporations and individuals, who maintain expensive organizations to protect them.

The problem of forest protection is one of vital interest to the western lumbermen, as well as those who are only indirectly connected with the industry. The chief payroll of the Pacific and northwestern states comes from lumbering, as is evidenced by the fact that $75,000,000 is paid in wages annually in the mills, yards and camps in Washington, which give employment to from 175,000 to 190,000 men, while the lumber concerns in Oregon, Idaho, Montana and California pay as much more.

Experienced lumbermen say that more timber is destroyed annually by fires than is cut and add if some adequate protection could be devised the standing timber in the northwest would last for centuries.

Most of the big tracts are situated far from the centers of population, and communication between these distant points, except along railroads, cannot be had quickly, owing to the ruggedness of the country. Many forest owners believe the substitution of the wireless telegraph will be the means of averting at least part of the heavy losses that follow in the flames started through carelessness and neglect every summer.

REV. ANNA H. SHAW ELECTED

Chosen President of National Woman Suffrage Association.

Seattle, Wash., July 6.—The national convention of the National Woman Suffrage association elected the following officers:

President, Rev. Anna H. Shaw, Moulton, Pa.; first vice president, Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery, Swarthmore, Pa.; second vice president, Mrs. Florence Kelley, New York; corresponding secretary, Miss Kate M. Gordon, New Orleans; recording secretary, Mrs. Ella S. Stewart, Chicago; treasurer, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, Warren, O.; first auditor, Miss Laura Clay, Lexington, Ky.; second auditor, Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, Boston.

Secretary Gordon accepted re-election unwillingly, with the understanding that she might resign after a few months. The national leaders hope that Professor Frances Squire Potter may be induced to leave the University of Minnesota and give all her time to the office of corresponding secretary at the New York headquarters to be established, succeeding Miss Gordon, who will give all her time to the Louisiana state association.

The question of the next convention city was left to the general officers for decision. The candidates were Sioux Falls, S. D., and Washington, D. C.

The general officers have recommended Washington to the convention, but when their choice was made the financial inducements offered by the Sioux Falls business men had not been submitted. In the convention the argument that to hold the national convention in Sioux Falls just before election would swing South Dakota into the suffrage columns was used very effectively.

KETCHEL GETS THE DECISION

Michigan Fighter Still Is Middleweight Champion.

BATTLE GOES TWENTY ROUNDS

Neither Ketchel Nor Papke Able to Land a Knockout Blow—Champion Constantly on the Aggressive From the Start to the Finish of a Fight That Is Marked by Extreme Violence—Decision Greeted With Cheers and Hoots.

San Francisco, July 6.—Stanley Ketchel of Michigan is still the world's middleweight champion. In a desperate, grueling battle, during which the champion was constantly on the aggressive, he was awarded the decision over Billy Papke of Illinois at the end of the twentieth round—the scheduled number. Ketchel claimed to have broken his right hand in the sixth round and this assertion subsequently was verified. His left thumb also was dislocated. The decision of the referee was greeted with a mixture of cheers and hoots.

Peferee Roche after the contest made the following statement: "Ketchel was the aggressor at all times. Furthermore he landed the cleaner and harder punches and scored the only knockdown—in the tenth round—although nearly everybody seems to think that Papke had slipped to the floor. There is absolutely no question but Ketchel earned a clear cut decision."

As to the fight itself the "Assassin," as Ketchel has been christened by ring followers, bade fair literally to live up to this name. He forced the fighting from the tap of the initial gong and with the exception of the third enjoyed a clear lead in the first half of the battle. In the eleventh Ketchel landed time and time again with ponderous lefts and try as he would he could not find a vital place. Both men were bleeding freely at this stage of the battle, Papke in particular spouting blood from his mouth and nose until the center of the ring resembled a shambles.

The feature of the fight was the extreme viciousness with which both men fought and the apparent hatred that lurked behind every punch. When seen in his dressing room Ketchel gave out this statement: "I broke my right hand in the sixth round and later on—in the eighth round, I believe—I dislocated my left thumb. But for these mishaps I would have made short work of Papke. I could not hit effectively when the opportunity came and particularly in the tenth round. I will be only too glad to give Papke another chance."

Ed Papke, brother and manager of the defeated man, minced no words in showing his displeasure over the decision. He said that Papke should have been given a draw. The defeated pugilist said he would fight Ketchel at any time. Willis Britt said that unless Ketchel's hand improved the champion would not be able to fight Jim Flynn in Los Angeles on July 14, next.

YOUNG OARSMAN DROWNED

Shell Capsizes During a Championship Regatta.

Boston, July 6.—An accident and a fatality attended a championship regatta of the New England Amateur Rowing association. Edward Morley, an eighteen-year-old boy, rowing No. 3 in the St. Alphonsus eight-oared junior crew of Roxbury, Mass., was drowned while clinging to a tow rope to which he had been helped by two boat mates after their shell had capsized. Meanwhile the five other boat crews which had been contesting in the junior eight-oared race, the last event of the regatta, were struggling in the water, two others swamping before reaching the line, and three others after reaching it.

During the mile and a half race the St. Alphonsus crew was thrown into the water. In running to the assistance of the St. Alphonsus shell, a steam launch struck her amidships, cutting the shell in two. Morley was unable to swim, so two of his fellow oarsmen supported him to the launch, where he caught hold of a tow line. Then they returned for another oarsman to help him aboard. In the meantime Morley, clinging to the end of the rope, was drowned.

LAW AGAIN IS UNDER FIRE

Protests Made Against Enforcement of Pure Food Statute.

Washington, July 6.—The rigid enforcement of the pure food law was again under fire today at the general hearing of the protests against some of its provisions held before the national board of food and drug inspection of the department of agriculture. The subject of the hearing was the use of soda, potash, ammonia, alum and other chemicals in food and the effect of the use of such ingredients on the health of the consumer.

The board granted hearings to the representatives of manufacturers, who contended that the use of small quantities of chemicals is needed to insure the preservation of food in proper condition and that such use is not detrimental to health. In opposition the government experts and others declared that experiments have demonstrated the deleterious effects of such use of chemicals.
